

Algorithms Overview

Exercises

Searching with an algorithm

- Write a program which uses an STL algorithm to find the first occurrence of a letter in an `std::string` object. Display the index of this first match
- Check that your program correctly handles the case where the searched-for letter is not found